School is a beautiful place

11/14/2022 By Keira Miss.O'Donnell

Q.Have you seen bullying?

A. NO some people think that if they are getting left out of the game it's bullying

Q.Do you think we need more teachers at lunch and recess?

A. No because we are not going to find a lot of teachers.

Q.Do you think the 2nd graders should go to different classrooms for math?

A.No because it will be a lot harder for the teachers to remember all the 2nd graders.

Donuts
By Max

Hello guys, today I will report on donuts.

A few weeks ago, a new Joe Donuts opened in Mount Prospect by Walmart. It is only Drive Through but I hope it will become dine-in soon. My favorite donut is an Apple fritter. My dad's favorite is a pistachio old fashioned. But if Joe Donuts diner doesn't open, I will go to the Glenview Joe Donuts. My favorite donut there is a Snickers Old Fashioned. Next time I go to Joe Donuts.

Dogs And Their Unique Features

By Phoebe

When it comes to dogs, you might think about their paws, fur, faces, or maybe personalities. I have my very good dog, Gemma, to be our model, so you can see her paws and other features.

A dog's paws are usually pretty small. Their nails will usually be really long and hard to trim. If you want to figure out your dog's dominant hand, ask it to give you his/her paw 3 times, and see which one it gives you.

A dog's face can be very different depending on their breed. It might be droopy, spaced out, or you might even see dogs with 2 different color eyes.

Cats and Dogs:

What are the pros and cons of both?

By: Anna, Ms. Spenner's class

Pros:

- Low maintenance
- You don't have to walk them
- Funny (have you SEEN the videos on Youtube?)

Cons:

- Often moody
- Might damage belongings by scratching
- Not exactly compassionate

Pros:

- Compassionate
- Can help you get more exercise by getting you to walk them
- They're always there for you

Cons:

- Sometimes needy
- Sometimes a little too playful, so they can get hurt
- Expensive

Covid-19!

Covid-19 has really changed the world. Every country had been under lockdown. No flights and any other public places were open. A lot of people were scared of going out. They did not want to catch this tremendous disease. Schools went online on a meeting platform called Zoom. It was the worst outbreak that has happened in years. Senior citizens were in a great depression. Covid-19 is nicknamed for Coronavirus Disease. It started on December 12, 2019 in China. Everyone started panicking when it started spreading all over the world like fire. Doctors and scientists were trying to find a cure. It was hard to break down the cause of the disease and that's when they started to look into its origin in bats. The virus was deadly with so many victims. In 2021, some schools made a hybrid or online option for parents to decide whether their kids could go to school for a few days or just stay online. They still wore masks and social distance was maintained. Everywhere, people were losing their jobs due to the disease. Then charities were made for them. They made sure most families were safe and got their needs taken care of. Less people were getting sick. Everyone thought it was going to be okay. A few weeks later, many more people were getting sick. Hospitals were getting lots and lots of patients every day. Some of them survived, some of them did not. People still needed to wear masks to go out, there were signs on the floor showing where to stand for social distancing. Coronavirus is a crisis. Covid-19 was increasing a little more and people were even more afraid. Scientists discovered a vaccine. Everyone was getting the vaccine. Some parents were scared to get their children the vaccine. Some people were saying that if you get your kid the vaccine, there could be some side effects, but some still got the vaccine anyway. Lots of kids and adults got the vaccine. People thought that it was a lot safer. Covid-19 cases were decreasing. Now in hospitals there aren't a lot of people with the disease. But, Covid-19 still exists and everyone is still trying to fight it. The disease can get into your body and mutate, like Delta and Omicron. Everyone wearing a mask and washing hands might resolve the problem. Stay safe and healthy.

Bonjour!

An opinion article by Anna, Grade 5, Ms. Spenner's class

Picture going to Paris, France. Maybe you've been there before, maybe you haven't. What kind of foods do you picture yourself eating? Crepes, croissants, baguettes, and of course-macarons.

Macarons are small, soft little cookies with a smooth creme filling. They come in every flavor from Earl Grey to hazelnut. In my opinion, they are the delicious gem of Paris.

Sure, you can purchase macarons here in America, but they are often overpriced and unauthentic. It's probably better to go to France and get the real deal.

I love macarons, and dream of going to Paris and getting the authentic, real, thing.

Malala Yousafzai

By Safeena

Malala was born on July 12, 1997 in Mingora, Pakistan.

She wanted to be a doctor. She knew she would have to go to school for many years. However, she wouldn't mind because she loved school. One day the Taliban, a terrorist group took over her Swat Valley. They said Girls would soon be stopped from going to school. Not boys only girls. The Taliban started destroying girls' schools. Malala went to school everyday and spoke out about not stopping. She told the local newspapers that she was afraid the Taliban would close her school. She wasn't scared of doing the right thing because she knew education was important to her and other girls. The Taliban discovered her name. One day Malala was on a school bus and a man from the Taliban saw her. He went to the back of the bus and shot her in the head. Malala was immediately sent to a hospital in London. After nine months she recovered and was able to be reunited with her parents and brothers. She was lucky to survive. On the other hand, Malala never had the opportunity to become a doctor. Now, Malala shares her story with the world from writing books and interviewing with famous news channels. Her mission is helping girls stand up for their own rights. Her work can be found in films, interviews, speeches, and blogs. Finally, on a happy note Malala is recently married and well settled in her life in England. Her mission is going for every girl out there who wants a good education.

A Helpful Hat

Have you ever had the perfect ponytail, but your parents are making you wear an ugly hat? Then get a ponytail hat! It has a hole for your ponytail, and adjustable ponytail holes as well!

When I say ponytail hats, I mean hats, not baseball caps with holes in the back! Imagine how helpful they would be if everyone wore them! You should get a ponytail hat, think of the ease it would bring you!

Football

By Matthew

Football is the most common sport played. Most commonly found in the USA. It is played with a Football and the goal is to try and get it in to the other teams end zone. You can also score a field goal which is three points. A touchdown is when you get the football in the other teams' end zone. If you get down in the END ZONE, that gives the other team two points.

Basketball

By Matthew

Michael Jordan/ How to Play

Yeah! Yay! Michael Jordan is an all star for basketball. Basketball is a sport where you try to get the ball in a basket. There are many fouls like traveling where you hold the ball and run or walk. A shot from behind the blue line is worth three points. A dunk which is when you jump and put the ball in the hoop is two points. Anything in the blue line is two points!

Baseball

by Jack

Baseball is a sport played with a bat and ball. The goal for the offense is to score RBI's. The defense wants to get three outs before the offense scores. The team with the most runs wins. The modern record is 30 runs! The score of the 30-run game was Rangers 30, Orioles 3. The greatest baseball dynasty is the New York Yankees. The Yankees have 27 World Series rings! Two of the biggest rivalries (in my opinion) are the Yankees-Red Sox rivalry and the Cubs-Cardinals rivalry. The most games won by a single team was the 1906 Chicago Cubs and the 2001 Seattle Mariners. However, the least games lost is the 1906 Cubs because there were less games in 1906. Therefore, the greatest team is the 1906 Chicago Cubs. There are two major curses: the Billy Goat curse and Bambino curse.

ARTICLE 2: LAST WEEK AND BEFORE NEWS

Did you know that last week was the board of education meeting? Last week was also the Fairview representative meeting. Last week was also Sports Day. Before that was Halloween and Fairview Follies. On Halloween we did a big parade and a lot of fun games. My group (Aiden, Alex, Lucy and me) won all the prizes. Halloween is my favorite holiday because you get a lot of candy.

Hanukkah

By Safeena

Hanukkah is a Jewish holiday. Jewish people celebrate Hanukkah every November or December. Hanukkah lasts for eight nights. This holiday is also called the Festival of Lights. Around the 165 BCE, the Jewish people fought for religious freedom. A family named the Maccabees led them to victory. Then they went to a temple that had been damaged. The Maccabees lit a holy light in the temple. There was only enough oil to last for one day. But it ended up lasting for eight days. Many Jewish families come together during Hanukkah. They light the menorah, play dreidel, pray and eat foods cooked in oil. Some families give gifts. Hanukkah is a happy time. Today, Jews light a lamp called a menorah. For eight days a candle is lit for each night. The candles are a reminder of the miracle of the lasting oil. The eight days are called Hanukkah, which means dedication. It reminds people of the temple that had been saved. Jewish families say short prayers when they light the menorah. They remember the miracle of the oil. Hanukkah is a time for Jews to be thankful.

Bella's Interviews

Hi! Welcome to Bella's Interviews. Today, I interviewed Miss Picciola, a fifth grade teacher here at Fairview. She is very nice and an awesome teacher to have.

Q: When did you start teaching?

A: Four years ago in 2019 when I was 22.

Q: When did you start teaching AT Fairview?

A: I started teaching at Fairview last year in 2021

Q: Why did you want to become a teacher?

A: I had really good teachers and I wanted to be a good teacher too.

Q: Did anyone inspire you to become a teacher?

A: Yes, my 5th grade teacher, Mrs. Merrill.

Q: When you were little did you want to become a teacher?

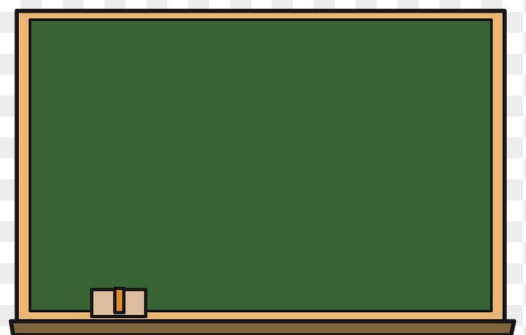

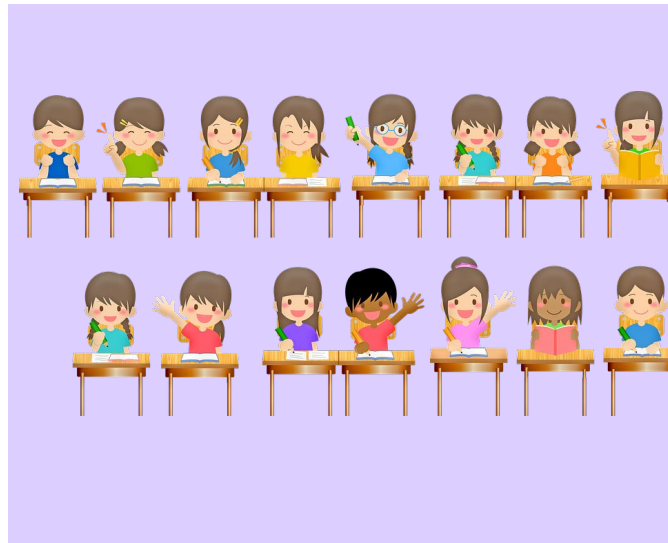

A: Yes, but I also wanted to be a doctor

Q: Why did you want to be a 5th grade teacher and not another grades teacher?

A: I wanted to teach (and learn) very fun topics and I like that I can talk to them like they're mature kids (because they are)

Q: Do you have anything else you would like to say?

A: In my free time I like to read, paint, and go on walks with my dogs (Tilly, Ollie, and Gigi)

Book Review of The School for Good and Evil Series by Soman Chainani

An opinion article by Anna, Grade 5, Ms. Spenner's class

The School for Good and Evil is a captivating, very well written book series following the adventures of Sophie and Agatha, two best friends living in a small town called Gavaldon. On the edge of Gavaldon, there are woods. Once every year, two children get kidnapped to the School and are never seen again. There's always two people taken each year. But one thing stays the same: one child is purely Good, the other purely Evil. This year, everyone thinks Sophie will be taken to the School for Good. She's kind, pretty, and wears pink, so why not? Agatha, however, is often called a witch, lives by a graveyard, and has a rather rude cat. Therefore, she seems the ideal person for the School for Evil. When the two girls end up in the opposite schools, they must find a way out. But as the old prophecy says, "Try to escape, you'll only fail, the only way out is through a fairy tale."

Snow Rabbits

By:Aria

Snow rabbits are animals that are so cute!But some are not that playful.Some live in the wild.They know how to live out there in the Arctic by blending in the snow.They have a thick fur coat that keeps them warm in the ever lasting cold.They live in burrows that are warm.They do not hibernate because it is always winter so they would never go outside.That is all I know about snow rabbits!

Interview with Aria: What Kind of Teacher Do You Prefer?

Q: What traits do you want a teacher to have?

A: Smart, resourceful, and kind

Q: Do you want her to be friends with other teachers?

A: Yes, because I don't want them to be lonely.

Q: Do you want your teacher to participate in lunch\recess?

A. I would, but other teachers don't have to. They can relax.

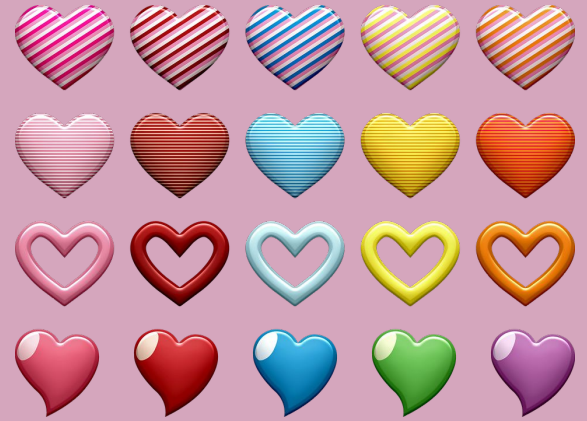

Q. Do you want your teacher to be hosts of clubs?

A. No, because it's extra work.

Recycling At Fairview

“Reuse, reduce, recycle.”

Did you ever notice that most of our waste comes from the Lunchroom? Well I did! But, if you look, you will see that we don't have a recycling bin, and I doubt anyone is sorting the recycling from the trash. Did you also notice that teachers recycling materials get thrown into the garbage along with the trash?

One way we can fix all of this waste, is that we can we can make it a competition. We can recycle, and if we reach a certain goal in pounds, then we can have a special reward. We could have signs that tell you what to recycle or not, so people don't recycle the

Francis Bacon

Michelle G 5C

Have you ever heard of the scientific method? It is a step-by-step way to answer a scientific question. Have you ever wondered where it can from? Well wonder no further! Francis Bacon invented the scientific method that inspired and still helps scientists TO THIS DAY.

Francis Bacon was born in January 22 1561, that's more than 300 years ago! Bacon was educated from home by his father due to Bacon's health problems. He went to Trinity College, and there found out about Aristotle's discovery and wanted to make a series of steps of how he found that some things are heavier than others. Do you know what he called it? The Scientific Method!

Step 1. Make a question

Step 2. Form a hypothesis (A answer you think is right)

Step 3. Conduct an experiment

Step 4. Collect data

Step 3. Report findings to others

Step 5. Make a conclusion

I Hope that helps you on your scientific journey!

From Today to Tomorrow: Who do these fifth graders want to be as they enter middle school?

An Interview by Anna

Interview with Aly and Lia

Q: What are you most afraid of going into sixth grade?

Aly: "What the teachers are going to be like, and getting to class on time."

Lia: "If the food is bad, and if the math teachers are rude."

Q: What are you most excited about?

Aly: "Making new friends."

Lia: "I am excited for seeing my friends from Lions Park."

Q: How do you think your friendships and other relationships will be affected?

Aly: "I think not-so-close friends will find other people and kinda drift away."

Lia: "I may reconnect with my friends from Lions Park, but might kinda lose my other friends."

Q: Overall, what do you think your experience will be like?

Aly: "Fun, but LOTS of homework."

Lia: "Probably hard and frustrating."

Valentines Day!

By Keira and Phoebe

Winter break ended, and Valentine's Day is just around the corner! Today we will tell you how Valentine's Day was invented...

It originated as a Christian feast day honoring one or two early Christian martyrs named Saint Valentine and, through later folk traditions, has become a significant cultural, religious, and commercial celebration of romance and love in many regions of the world. Here's a recipe for valentine's day cookies!

Lucid Dreaming

Michelle G 5C

Have you ever had a wacky dream?
Have you ever wanted to change it?
Then Lucid dreaming is for you!
Lucid dreaming is when you are able to stay awake in your dream, and if you are skilled enough, even control it!

Step 1: Develop a habit that will let you know that you are dreaming.
Something like: pinching yourself, looking at the clock, away, then back again to see if the time changes, or maybe touching each finger to your thumb, then back again.

Step 2: Record every dream that you can remember in a dream journal, and see if a pattern of problems or things that happen occur. Even if you don't have a dream, record that anyway, try to find a pattern for that too!

Step 3: Before you go to bed, make sure that you tell yourself that you

HOW TO GET AWARDS

Hi, my name is Max. I am in third grade, in Mrs. Mescino's class. I recently got a Character Card and get to go to lunch with Mrs. Durkan. I am going to bring my friend Aiden with me. You can get a Character Card by being appropriate, helping others and good things like that. If the teacher really thinks you are standing out, you get a Falcon Award. I hope to get one this year!
