Just a reminder on district policy when your child is allowed to return to school after being ill.

A child must be:

- Fever free for 24 hours (without fever reducing medication)
- No vomiting for 24 hours
- No diarrhea for 24 hours

This is a must before sending your child back to school.

Any rash or skin eruption must have a doctor's note stating that your child is not contagious and can be at school.

Also, please notify the school of your child's illness when the absence is reported. A notification letter may need to be sent out to the rest of the class pending the illness.

Thank you for your cooperation!

Safety Reminders at Westbrook School

- For the safety of the students and staff, please do not bring your pet when dropping off or picking up your child. Even the friendliest of pets will protect their owner if they feel they are in danger, many young children are afraid of them, and students may be affected by allergies. The presence of an animal can create an uncomfortable situation for parents and staff. Thank you for your cooperation.
- We request that you discontinue all cell phone calls when you are dropping off or picking up your child. Your undivided attention will contribute to the safety of children and staff.
- When waiting at Door 9 for your student to be dismissed, please do not allow anyone to climb on the wall/fence. We would not want anyone to get hurt.

Bee Safe, Bee Kind Bee Ready to Learn :)

We are off to a wonderful start this year in the music mobile! We have been singing, moving, playing instruments, and playing games.

We have spent quite a bit of time playing different percussion instruments. Percussion instruments are instruments that you shake, tap, or scrape. We have classified some of these instruments into groups: woods, metals, shakers, and skins. We used these groups to perform a repeated phrase in the story Alexander and the Terrible, Horrible, No Good, Very Bad Day by Judith Viorst to show how music can help dramatize a story. The children did a terrific job accompanying the story with instruments to show how upset and frustrated Alexander was in the story.

We have been working very hard at learning to play instruments, sing, and move with a steady beat. The ability to maintain a steady beat is an important skill in music class that we will continue to work on throughout the year. In this next month, we will start learning to read music notation, and then we will do some composing!

One of our students performed a piano piece for his class this week. If your child is taking piano lessons and would like to share one short piece with the class, he/she may bring their music to music class to perform when the piece is ready.

Thank you!

Physical Therapy Bite - Buying Children's Footwear

Too often during the school day, I see students whose shoes are not fitting properly. It is important to keep in mind that children's feet are still developing and that proper size and fit are crucial. Along with that, consider that the shoe fits the activity. Dress up shoes or Crocs might be fun and comfortable to wear, but they might not be the best choice when participating in activities within Gym class.

To help you on this journey, here are what the experts recommend, when shoe buying, to facilitate the healthy development of your child's feet.

1. Take your child with you when shoe shopping, if possible. Pick a time when you are not tired or rushed, so it is a pleasant experience for both of you.
2. Have your child's feet measured and always buy for the bigger foot (a lot of times, one foot is slightly bigger than the other).

3. There should be about ½ inch of room between the big toe and the front of the shoe in standing. When testing in sitting, the result will not be accurate, since there is no weight put through the feet.
4. Although tempting, don't buy shoes too big, since they do not offer the proper support and do not help your child have an appropriate walking pattern.
5. It should feel snug, when putting your finger in the back of your child's shoe, by his/her heel.
6. The back of the shoe should be sturdy and supportive to the heel.
7. The shoe should not be heavy, but rather lightweight.
8. Make sure, the sole is not stiff, but that it has a "break", right behind where you would push off with your toes.
9. Try shoes on with the kind of socks, your child would typically wear or that is intended for the type of shoe you are buying.
10. Shoes do not need to be "broken in". The shoes should be comfortable from the beginning.

There a lot of price ranges and appropriate shoes can be found in every range. Make sure to check the fit of your child's feet frequently, since typically children require bigger shoes every 3-4 months. Signs to watch for are excessive wear of shoes (often at heels or toes), curled toes when standing, difficulty putting them on, and blisters/marks on feet.
